The road to recovery can be an arduous task, but you are not alone. To ensure that your journey to sobriety is a successful one, it is crucial to choose a credible rehabilitation facility.

In the United States, approximately 114 people die per day due to a drug overdose. Source: The Fix

In 2012, drug overdose deaths became the leading cause of death by injury over motor vehicle accidents. Source: The Fix

Choosing the right rehab program can be the difference between life and death. Inpatient rehabilitation facilities are preferred for addiction recovery due to a variety of factors such as:

- 24 hour care
- Controlled environment, removed from temptations
- Sense of community to aid with the recovery process
- Medication management Generally associated with higher success rates

Source: DualDiagnosis.org

(866) 432-2467  bhpalmbeach.com

Behavioral Health of the Palm Beaches has Earned the Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval.